Female Urinary Incontinence Device Elitone

ELITONE®

External. Easy. Effective.
Your leaking days are over

ELITONE stimulates weakened pelvic floor muscles by doing perfectly-timed Kegels for you to Regain Control, Regain Confidence®.

Urinary incontinence affects 1 in 3 women. For women with stress-type incontinence (85%), usually due to weakened pelvic floor muscles, there are no medications, and surgery is a last resort. Muscle training exercises (Kegels) are clinically effective but suffer from low compliance and are often performed incorrectly. Intravaginal electrical muscle stimulation (EMS) is an effective substitute for those who have failed exercises, but as many as two-thirds of women opt out of those treatments because of their invasiveness.

"I'm so glad my gynecologist suggested ELITONE. The other option would have required taking time off work a few times each week. It definitely helped. I'm dry all day now."

Emily -Age 36, Indiana

How it Works

ELITONE® stimulates the pelvic floor muscles to contract and exercise for you.

APPLY the GelPad against your skin like a pantyliner and put your clothes back on.

ADJUST the stimulation level to provide a comfortable muscle contraction.

WEAR it 20 minutes a day to get 100 pelvic floor contractions.

- Easy to Use—No patient training is required. Patient self-administers treatment in the privacy of her home at a time that's convenient for her.
- Non-Invasive—Many incontinence therapies require vaginal insertion, but ELITONE is applied externally for superior comfort.
- Effective—In a recent clinical study, 95% of women reported a reduction in leaks, with an average reduction of 71% after only 6 weeks of use.

The ELITONE® kit includes the handheld controller with beltclip, cables, storage case and 6-weeks worth of disposable GelPads.

Give up leaking. Not dancing.

"I love this device! I have seen marked improvements. Unbelievable!"

-Janet, Maryland

Do you leak when you laugh, sneeze, cough or exercise? Do you wear pads because you leak? If so, you likely have stress urinary incontinence. Incontinence can rob you of so many joys of life. It's hard to be confident and active when you are worrying about leaks. But there is a simple solution to get you back to living life leak free.*

The solution

ELITONE is a first of its kind device that allows non-invasive treatment of stress urinary incontinence. ELITONE uses gentle, low-frequency pulses to stimulate weakened pelvic floor muscles by doing perfectly-timed Kegels - for you. With regular use, those embarrassing leaks will go away.

"I had constant problems with incontinence. ELITONE changed my life. I now have complete control over urination again! No surprises, no worries."

-Diana, age 66

A woman's solution to a women's issue.
